Forecast For Scotland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 0400 on Thursday 10 Jun 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Mainly dry, cloudy and breezy today.

Today:
Mostly cloudy with some patchy light rain in the west, becoming heavy later over the Western Isles. Best of the warm sunny intervals will be in the northeast. Breezy, with strong southwesterly winds over the Hebrides and across the mountains.

Tonight:
A band of rain will move southeast over Scotland overnight but becoming light and patchy. Drier conditions following with a few showers in northwest. Staying mild with fresh southwesterly winds.

Friday:
Sunny intervals and a few showers. The best of the sunshine will be in the east where it will feel warm. Fresh or strong southwesterly winds.

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Mainly dry with sunny spells on Saturday. Rain spreading into the west on Sunday but drier, brighter and warmest in the east. Cooler with sunny spells and showers on Monday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.